Chapter 1 by SuperFolder Ghostbuster

One the day I was born, I dreamed of flight. 5 years later, I talked to a bird that spoke english. 10 years later, I met her.

Chapter 2 by -

At age 15 I evolved. At age 20 I was the bird. At age 25 - well, I was soaring through the sky.

Chapter 3 by thelastunicorn

Then a 5 year old boy found me. He evolved 10 years later. Now there are hundreds, no, thousands.

Chapter 4 by -

Yes, millions of evolving people. No longer did scientists need their "missing-link." Now, they had plenty to behold and observe miraculously changing.

Chapter 5 by -

You could observe every detail of the transformation. The good and the bad. The pleasant and the gruesome.

Chapter 6 by

But then one day, someone began spreading doubts. Such as "what is the purpose of life?" Or "how come scientists stare at us?"

Chapter 7 by -

And it began a long journey of mental challenges. Men began to search, physically, mentally, and spiritually. Scientists tried to exterminate those who dared to question, but the people only protested.

Chapter 8 by Alice Marie Bride

As the secondborn, I felt the need to search, to find, to put these doubts to rest. I needed to find the motherbird, to request her help, for these humans were beginning to doubt us, and themselves. Motherbird, now older and feeble, only told me that the real answer lies within us- and thus, I set out on my journey, preaching the wise words of motherbird.
